Nearly all our bookings are on a full board basis and include lunch (or picnic in lieu) taken on arrival or departure (or both, one as extra).

Tariff period 'A' (low season)

Half board terms include dinner and breakfast. Any extra lunches taken are charged at £30 per person (£12.50 per child in the Children's Dining Room).

Bed and breakfast is £20 less than the half board rate.

Periods 'B' and 'C' (peak season)

Half board visits, when available, are £15 less than the daily full board rate.

From 8th July to 2nd September advance bookings are nearly all for Friday to Friday full board only.

During the Spring Bank Holiday week bookings are mostly Friday to Friday or Saturday to Saturday weeks. At Easter a minimum of four nights applies over the main weekend.

Families: The basic rate is used for calculating the reduced charges for children. Please see the Junior Tariff. It is also the rate for a few independent double and single rooms with hand basin only.

'A' outlook indicates varying views to the east or south beyond our outer gardens and extensive grounds. Other rooms look onto our large open Courtyard or wooded inner grounds.

Our optional cancellation insurance is explained on the booking forms which we make out and send when you wish to book.

Junior Tariff 2012

26th March 2012 – 2nd January 2013

Children under eight have supper and those under five have all meals in the Children's Dining Room. For those rare borderline exceptions which may occur, dinner in the restaurant is charged at £12.50 per meal. A completely separate department within the hotel caters for young children in the Children's dining room. In the interests of guests without children we do not allow young ones under five or babies to come into the main restaurant. Knoll House provides these superb children's facilities to allow a relaxed and balanced atmosphere for children and adults alike.

One child in an extra bed or cot is charged as in the table below. Children in the connecting room of a family suite are charged a minimum total of 70% of the basic rate between them. The total percentage for three older children in a connecting room (one in a small bed or cot) is capped at a maximum of 150% which offers a considerable saving.

We supply solid full-size cots with bumpers, or small beds, and all bedding.

The daily rates are for full board to the nearest pound.
